Jail work under way

July 16

UNITY — Major upgrades to the Sullivan County House of Correction started this week, and construction of the county's new Community Correction Center is expected to begin Sept. 1.

With the $6.9 million improvement and expansion project under way, Ross Cunningham, superintendent of the jail, faced tough questions from the Sullivan County Commissioners yesterday. Commission Chairman Jeff Barrette pointed to jail population statistics that show a decrease from 123 inmates at this time last year to 106 inmates as of yesterday.
